ACTIVITY NO. 4 Data Analytics Career

1. PROCEDURE OUTPUT

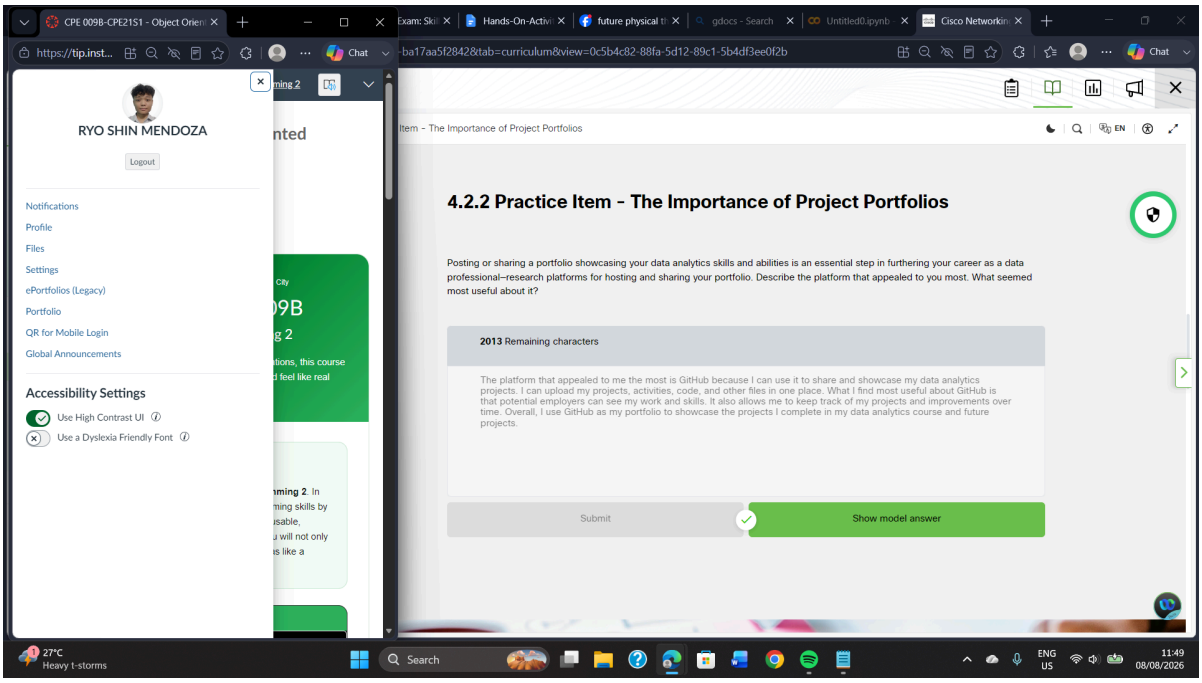

4.1.5 Practice Item - Job Market

Answer:

According to my research, my career path in data analytics would start as a Junior Data Analyst, where I can develop my skills in Excel, SQL, Python, and data visualization. After gaining enough experience, I would become a Data Analyst and eventually work as a Senior Data Analyst or Business Analyst. In the future, I want to work outside the country, possibly as a Data Analyst or Business Analyst at a company like Google. I know that I cannot achieve these goals without hard work, effort, and discipline, so I will continue improving my skills and gaining experience to reach my dream career.

4.2.2 Practice Item - The Importance of Project Portfolios

Answer:

The platform that appealed to me the most is GitHub because I can use it to share and showcase my data analytics projects. I can upload my projects, activities, code, and other files in one place. What I find most useful about GitHub is that potential employers can see my work and skills. It also allows me to keep track of my projects and improvements over time. Overall, I use GitHub as my portfolio to showcase the projects I complete in my data analytics course and future projects.

Conclusion

This activity helped me understand different career paths in data analytics and the skills needed to be a data professional. I learned how to build experience and make a portfolio, which are important steps to reach my career goals. I also tackled how I use GitHub to showcase my data analysis projects and to get better for my future profession with tools like Excel, SQL, Python, and visualizing data. I know that to be able to reach my goal of working as a Data Analyst or Business Analyst, maybe abroad, I will need to work hard, have discipline, and learn continuously. This experience has inspired me to continue to develop my skills and pursue my future career.
